Advance in Prices of Subscriptions and Advertising.

In consequence of the increased cost of wages, paper, and other materials, the Proprietors of the NASHVILLE

UNION have been compelled to advance the price of subscriptions, advertising, &c. They have adopted a new schedule, as appears above, and which will go into effect on Monday, Sept. 20th, and be scrupulously adhered to.

This step has been taken reluctantly, but after mature deliberation, and not until we were satisfied that it could no longer be safely deferred. We trust, however, that it will not be long before the country is relieved of the high prices which are draining the resources of business men, and we can return to the old rates. We shall be most happy to return to them as soon as circumstances will justify. In the meantime we solicit the continued support of the friends and patrons of the UNION.

The members of the Association are invited to attend the weekly meeting, at Mrs. Charles Smith's, No. 71, North

Market Street, every Thursday afternoon.

By order of I. A. A.

Mrs. R. S. SHANKLAND

Keamey vs. McClellan.

The following extracts from a private letter written June 22, 1862, two days before the commencement of the seven days battle, show that the political ambition of the "Young Napoleon" had its origin as far back as the Peninsular campaign, and that his motives were fully read by the soldier, who was far more than his equal in every respect. This letter has never before been printed.

"He has now got us in a queer position, which is neither witty nor bright.

The golden season of attack is lost. We have allowed them to collect more men, to establish a base for their operations, and to try forays in our rear.

With all my desire of pushing ahead, I think that it is now nearly too late; at
